To Township Arsessors SEVERANCE, KANSAS, Feb. 12, 1876.

ED. CHIEF:—With your kind permission, I dealer to sa a few words to the several Township Assessors of Doni agree upon an equal basis of valuation.

Sec. 30, chrp. 107. General Statutes, reads: "Assessor muy commence the work of assessment at any time after Sec. 1, chap. 120, laws of 1870, which amends part o sec. 36, chap 107. General Statutes, is silent as to the time of commencement, but provides that Assessors shall meet on the third Wednesday of April, and then agree upon an equal basis of valuation.

This provision was right when Assessors were elected in April; but since they are elected in November, would it not be better to meet on the first Monday in March ? It would give the Assessors of large Townships more time to do the work, and there would be ne violation of law, as to time of commencement of work.

I have called the attention of Hon. Arch. S. Campbell. our member of the Legislature, to the matter, but I would like to bear from the Assessors of the County, and have like to hear from the Assessment their opinion. Respectfully yours, ROST. P. SHULSKY, Assessor Wolf River Township.

Is IT ANOTHER ADSCOND!-Robert Tracy has been Treasurer of this County for the past four years, and deputy for many years more. He has always been held as strictly reliable and trustworthy, and no suspicion has ever been entertained that he was inclined to "crookedness." He has frequently (several times each week) made visits to St. Joe; and Sanday, he made another trip, withou; intimating that he would remain beyond his usual time. But he has not yet returned, and we have not learned that any person has seen him Those acquainted with the Tressury, cannot find that there is any shortage or irregularity of any kind; but there is no telling what future developments may bring forth. He had talked frequently, of late, of going to the Black Hills, which was the only indication that he ever thought of lighting out from Troy. For aught we know, he may now be in that rocky region, or thereabouts.

P. S. We have just learned that he was married, or

The Topeka Turners took occasion to celebrate general take the opportunity to poke fun at the Turners, and to vituperate the memory of Paine. For people who do not live in glass houses, if there be any such, it may be all very well to laugh at the premiarities of our German citizens but among the dying comments we have detect ed the statement that Paine was a man of disso lute haldrs, which statement, we wish to remark is false. Paine may have been so painted by his traducers, but the fact remains that he was a man of comparatively pure morals.—Law. Standard.

PERSONNE S 1876

Mrs. Tilton spent a said New Year. Her has band returned, a few days before, from his specessful Western tour, and found that his daughters, Florence and Alice, had not called upon their mother. Florence, the elder, now a dignified and self reliant young woman, was quite disminchined to the sa, but Mr. Tilton, it is said, arged that her mother would miss the calls and attentants she had been accustomed to brevive, and the daughters at last started off in a carriage, with two hunquets for their mother. Arriving at the door, they sent up their names, bouquets and an affectionate note, with the salutations of the New Year, and asked to be admitted. The servant quickly brought back the bouquets and the note anopened, with the message that Mrs. Tilton did not wish to see them or receive any thing at their hands! It seems alm is incredible that a same mother could repulse her children mider such circumstances, and the question now arises, what influences surround Mrs. Tilton to produce such a result? —Chicago Tribase. Mrs. Tilion's New Year's.

SHOULD BE OBSERVED .- The Wyandotte Ga-SHOULD BE OBSERVED.—The Wyandotte Gazette very sensibly says that infamous section requiring stray notices to be published in the Kausas Farmer, should this Winter be stricken from our statutes. It is a monopoly which has been tolerated only to the disgrace of Kausas, it is not only a gross ir justice to other papers of the State, but it is unjust to the people who are either compelled to take that one paper, or know nothing of the strays taken up in their own neighborhoods.—Barlington Patriot.
